MÖLKKY RULES

Equipment: Numbered wooden pins 1-12, throwing brick, paper and pen

Captains throw coin or play rock-paper-scissors to determine which team will start.
The captain of the starting team will keep score.
Keep score of the points, as well as number of consecutive throws where zero pins fell down.

Teams decide an order in which players throw the brick.

Procession of the game:

Arrange pins into a tight stack 3 to 4 meters from the throwing spot. See the arrangement on the right ->
Teams take turns at throwing the brick at the pins. The throwing spot remains constant throughout the game.
After each throw, raise the pins that fell down into an erect stance.

Scoring rules:

If more than one pin falls down; points from the throw = number of pins that fell down.
If only one pin falls down; points from the throw = the number written on the pin that fell down.
Zero pins fallen down on three consecutive throws: Your team loses all points it has gathered.

Game ends when one of the teams reaches EXACTLY 50 points. This is the final challenge!!
If the number of points exceeds 50 points, your team has to continue from 25 points.
